Presentation of Solvinc Online Toolkit

An online tool „Learning from Culture Shocks” was created for students, faculty and staff of higher education institutions who are in some way involved with international mobility: students who are planning or living international mobility and staff who are welcoming or preparing students for such an experience. It can be used as an autonomous learning tool or as inspiration for preparing on-arrival or pre-departure workshops for students in international mobility. The online-tool is not only text-based, but illustrates the reader on culture shocks in higher education, 35 critical incidents, reader on sensitive zones and each sensitive zone itself in a visually appealing way with pictures, icons and graphics. The tool was created by the team of the SOLVINC Erasmus+ project.

It is available in 5 languages versions: ENG, DE, FR, PL and PT and is reachable through this link:
